DETAILED ACTION

1. This application has been examined. The RCE filed 12/16/03 has been entered.

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 21-24, 34-35, 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Korszun (5680528) and Toohey (6405176).

4. Regarding claim 21, Korszun shows a method of viewing articles including: providing a viewer to different article provider databases having images of articles (col. 5 lines 1-20, col. 7 lines 25-50, col. 10 lines 25-45), linking the viewer and receiving commands to select a structure and type of articles (col. 10 lines 25-60), linking different article databases and passing respective images of articles from the type from for view on the viewer (col. 11 lines 10-50), generating a composite image from the passed images and structure, representing for viewing as a single object the structure modified with the article corresponding to the passed images (col. 11 lines 10-30). Korszun does not mention the web access whereby the different article databases are thus different article provider sites on the web, but does mention online viewing (col. 14 lines 5-67) for convenience of article access. This thus serves as the 'host site' for the online viewer.

Furthermore, Toohey shows the online web access viewing of articles with web linkable different article provider sites, for convenience of article access. It would have been obvious to a person with ordinary skill in the art to have this in Korszun, and thus having a host site being web linkable to different article provider sites, because it would allow convenience of article access.

5. Regarding claim 22, the passed image is scaled appropriately (Korszun col. 11 lines 1-20).
6. Regarding claim 23, the structure is an apparel model, and the images are apparel (Korszun Figures 5A-D).
7. Regarding claim 24, different structures may be selected (col. 7 lines 30-55).
8. Claims 34-35 and 39 show the same features as claim 21 and is rejected for the same reasons.
9. Claims 25-33 and 36-38 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. These claims bring out the closeting feature which in combination with the other features distinguishes over the prior art of record.

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

11. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Steven P Sax whose telephone number is 703-305-9582. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 8:30AM - 5:00PM.
